Clarifying our value through the crisis of COVID-19

2020 was a challenging year for society, for our clients, our business and of course, our people.

Throughout this year, our people across the organization have shown themselves to be adaptable, demonstrating dedication and resilience. I want to express my thanks for their commitment to our business during a time of tremendous change.

The defining feature of the year was of course the impact of COVID-19. Our primary concern throughout the COVID-19 crisis has been the health, safety and well-being of our people, as well as that of our clients, their customers, and our communities.

Firstly, our people—the engine of our business. I would like to highlight a website, “Women From Home” created by Merlee Jayme, Chief Creative Officer, dentsu APAC. The website shares practical ideas to support our people and their families during the pandemic implemented in our APAC region. (https://www.dentsuwomenapac.com/)

The physical and mental health of our people was a top priority across the Group with many initiatives implemented at a market level to support them. Across the Dentsu Group, remote working quickly became common place across the organization to protect the safety and wellbeing of our people and their families. The working life of our people was disrupted, but the business reacted at speed. Our teams strengthened their connections through our collaborative work platforms and ensuring our leaders were visible was...

more critical than ever. Our new business teams quickly adapted to hosting, and winning, pitches virtually. This was possible through the investment in the operating infrastructure that we have been promoting throughout the Group over the past two years.

Secondly, supporting our clients. By utilizing our research, analysis, and forecasting capabilities, we provided our clients with consumer insights to help them shape their response to the rapidly changing environment we all experienced.

Finally, our communities. We have worked with our clients to plan and implement a variety of solutions that contribute to local communities under the impact of COVID-19. In China, we worked with a pharmacy client to provide free, online medical consultation services during the crisis. Together with another client, we worked to deliver free meals to hospital workers in a highly impacted Asian market.

With this backdrop, there is also an opportunity for us at Dentsu to clarify our meaning, value and purpose in society.

“The Dentsu Group exists to realize a better society by contributing to the growth of our clients, partners, people, and all consumers.”

We believe that fulfilling this mission will sustainably enhance the value we deliver to all our stakeholders including our shareholders.

Review of 2020

As a result of the unprecedented impact of COVID-19 on our industry, the Dentsu Group posted gross profit of 835.0 billion yen (down 9.8% year-on-year, constant-currency basis) and adjusted operating profit of 123.9 billion yen (down 10.6% year-on-year, constant-currency basis). As a result of swift cost action across the entire Group we were able to deliver an operating margin of 14.8% (down 0.2% year-on-year) as a result of thorough cost control in Japan and abroad. I would like to pay tribute once again to the efforts and ingenuity of our employees, both in Japan and abroad.

The Group recorded a statutory operating loss of 140.6 billion yen and a net loss of 159.5 billion yen (attributable to owners of the parent). As President and CEO of the Group, I recognize my responsibility for these results.

2020 brought much success, both with new client wins and industry recognition. We are honored to be granted the responsibilities of new media accounts such as Kraft Heinz globally excluding the US, McDonald’s and Nestlé in China, and Galderma globally, while deepening our relationships with existing clients such as Generali and Heineken.

Responding to the emerging client needs for brand experience consultancies, our CXM and creative lines of business have won many accounts. And I’m proud to announce we have significantly expanded our relationship with American Express, without a formal review through dentsu mcgarrybowen.

In Japan, we announced a joint venture with Toyota, elevating our existing partnership to deliver true digital transformation beyond marketing. The project has started well with the aim of enhancing marketing and data management throughout the supply chain of Toyota.

The longstanding, trusted partnerships we are developing with our clients demonstrates success as we integrate talent, process, and technology.

These wins stand as a testament to our strategy of leveraging the deep expertise across our Group, with our proven ability to unite them into bespoke solutions for clients across our global network.

We have also been widely recognized by third parties, such as industry analysts.

Forrester placed one of our agencies, Merkle as a leader in the Customer Database and Engagement Agencies Wave and the Adobe Implementation Services Wave. Carat, our global media agency at Dentsu International, also received a placing in the leader category for global media agencies.

In terms of creativity and capability of delivering solutions to our clients, we celebrated Dentsu Inc.’s Yuya Furukawa receiving the President’s Award at the D&AD Awards in September for his outstanding contribution to creativity. Dentsu Group was selected as one of the Most Effective Agency Holding Groups at the Effie, with dentsu mcgarrybowen and 360i selected as winning lead agencies.

Through our focus on sustainability, I am pleased to announce that Dentsu International achieved the ambitious goal it set itself in 2015 to procure 100% renewable electricity by the end of 2020. The international business has also committed to becoming a net zero emissions business by 2030. The commitment includes a new science-based target to reduce absolute carbon emissions by 46% and offset all unavoidable emissions through certified greenhouse gas removal projects. We also reconfirmed our listing in the FTSE4Good Index by meeting its ESG standard.

The Group also has announced that it is joining the Valuable 500, which was launched last year at the World Economic Forum’s Annual Meeting in Davos, to commit to respecting employee diversity and developing solutions for people with disabilities.

Comprehensive Review and Medium-term Management Plan: “Sustainable Growth through Transformation”

In August 2020, our comprehensive review with four clear objectives was launched in advance of the Medium-term Management Plan.

1. Create a more simplified structure
2. Structurally and permanently lower operating expenses
3. Enhance the efficiency of our balance sheet
4. Maximize long-term shareholder value

We have taken swift action. Announcing a transformation to simplify the business with associated cost savings generating approximately 75 billion yen by 2022 across both Dentsu Japan Network and Dentsu International. Dentsu Japan Network is reorganizing the business into four domains and Dentsu International is integrating 160 agency brands to six. We launched a review of our balance sheet, challenging whether we are the natural owner of all non-trading assets. This review resulted in the sale of the majority of our holdings in Recruit Holdings and the review continues with two property asset sales in Q1 2021. These actions enabled us to deliver against our fourth objective of improving shareholder value by announcing a 30 billion yen (maximum) buyback in February 2021.

Full details of our transformation and cost saving program are covered later in this report (see p. 12).

In February 2021 we announced the Medium-term Management Plan: “Sustainable Growth through Transformation.” We are executing the Accelerated Transformation Plan and driving Business Transformation to deliver growth and margin improvement from 2022.

Our strategy of Integrated Growth Solutions remains the center point of our vision. With Consumer Intelligence at the core of our capabilities and creativity as our innate competitiveness, we create integrated solutions across the total customer experience beyond marketing.

We are proud to serve 95 of the world’s top 100 advertisers as our clients—demonstrating the strength of our offer—our opportunity lies with the ability to deepen those client relationships.

Today, the core competencies of our clients have transformed significantly over time. Consumers require companies to provide social value through their corporate behavior and their products. Consumers interest in corporate social roles and values has risen dramatically, and companies are under intense scrutiny on an unprecedented basis. Companies must ensure transparency and earn the trust and confidence of consumers and the public. The questions facing the management of every company is how to integrate the creation of social value with the growth of the business.

We provide “dentsu Sustainable Business Solutions” based on our unique consumer intelligence utilizing data and technology, and it is another growth opportunity for the Dentsu Group.

It goes without saying that it is we ourselves who are under scrutiny for the social role and value of our companies. If we are to provide our customers with solutions to create social value, we must first take a hard look at our own actions, straighten up, and fulfill our responsibilities as a corporate citizen.

At the end of March, the Dentsu Group established the Sustainable Business Board, chaired by Wendy Clark, to oversee both the delivery of dentsu Sustainable Business Solutions, which focus on client sustainability, and our own sustainability from the same perspective.

In six months, we have made significant progress, but we recognize there is more to do. I look forward to updating you on our continued progress throughout 2021.

Holding company formation

2020 saw the formation of Dentsu Group Inc. as a holding company to support our two operating units.

To embrace this change we created a new Group vision “an invitation to the never before.” as our NORTHSTAR with eight values common to all of our people across the Group: “The 8 Ways.” The 8 Ways drive behavior and ambition in our people to deliver the best for our clients. Our clients will see one
CEO message

Through “one dentsu,” we are creating an environment in which the 64,000 people operating in more than 145 markets can form teams easily across geographical and organizational boundaries, bringing together unique talent and diverse perspectives that can spark innovation from anyone, anywhere. This radical collaboration empowers all individuals to create value and innovation, and gives us the ability to form diverse and new solutions around client needs and sets us apart from our competitors to give us a renewed source of differentiation.

The diversity of our people has never been more important and the creation of a workplace where each individual can thrive is central to the vision of one dentsu.

As part of this transformation, in September our international business rebranded to Dentsu International, symbolizing the unity between the Japan business and the international business strengthening the dentsu brand and uniting all employees. This allows us to leverage our global skills with clients able to access the best talent across the whole of Dentsu Group.

We saw further change at our international business in 2020 as well. Firstly, we welcomed Wendy Clark to the position of Global CEO of Dentsu International Limited and as an executive member of Dentsu Group Inc. in September. Wendy is a highly talented executive with experience from the client side coupled with a strong understanding of the complexities of running a global advertising business.

This is hugely complementary to our growth plans which focus on the delivery of Integrated Growth Solutions. Wendy has already made a positive impact with our people and our clients. I have strong belief she is the right individual to return the international business to growth. In March 2021 Wendy joined the board of Dentsu Group Inc. to strengthen the board, as well as enhance diversity, with greater international representation.

Secondly, in March 2020 we announced the accelerated buyout of the remaining Merkle shares. This delivered single-digit EPS accretion for Dentsu Group in 2020, in addition to ensuring key talent retention and allowing us to accelerate the final stage of the integration of Merkle. As I mentioned earlier, Merkle remains a key contributor to our ambition of reaching 50% revenues from Customer Transformation & Technology over time.

Looking ahead

In July 2021, we enter the 121st year from the founding of the Dentsu Group. The ancient Chinese calendar, which is still popular in Japan, is based on a cycle of 60 years. In other words, it is the start of the third cycle for the Dentsu Group from the July of this year.

In the next 60 years, we will contribute to the creation of a better society while challenging ourselves to change for the better.

We want to continue to be a company that contributes to the growth of our clients, our partners who live and work, so that we can create a better society.
Sustainable growth through transformation

Director and Executive Officer

FY2020 review
FY 2020 was a challenging year for society, our clients and our business. The restrictions imposed across the globe impacted spend on advertising and marketing as the COVID crisis caused a slowdown in global demand.

The impact of COVID-19 on our Group was felt from the first quarter of 2020 and continued throughout the year. The second quarter was the trough in our performance and although the Group delivered sequential quarterly improvement through the third and fourth quarters, the Dentsu Group reported organic revenue decline of -11.1% for FY2020.

Dentsu Japan Network reported -8.4% and Dentsu International reported -13.0% organic revenue decline.

In Japan, although client spend on advertising decreased with the pandemic, the digital solutions business maintained momentum throughout the year, supporting clients’ ever-growing needs for digital transformation. This remains a significant opportunity for the Group as we enter FY2021. ISID and Dentsu Digital significantly contributed to the group revenue less cost of sales, both posting double-digit organic growth for the full year, giving confidence our solutions are well placed to meet clients’ needs.

At Dentsu International, media spend remained low throughout the year and our creative service line suffered from a reduction in project-based work due to the impact of the pandemic. However, the CXM service line was much more resilient showing an organic revenue decline of -3.2%, while Merkle saw a decline of only -1%. The CXM business and Merkle in particular are well positioned to see an improvement in revenues in FY2021 as clients increasingly focus on first party data combined with robust ecommerce and D2C strategies. The performance media business also performed well in the final months of FY2020, with client spending focused on personalization and we expect that trend to continue into 2021.

Swift cost actions
In order to mitigate the impact of the expected revenue decline due to COVID-19, we reacted swiftly and took a number of cost actions in the first quarter of 2020. These actions included an immediate review of contractor roles and arrangements, improvement of business efficiency, and containment of M&A-related expenses by pausing M&A activity.

Personnel cost management was implemented in Japan through more flexible work-time management, and measures at Dentsu International including reduced working hours in exchange for a temporary salary reduction. I would like to offer my personal thanks to all our people who showed such dedication and resilience during an enormously challenging year.

These actions ensured our FY2020 operating margin stabilized at 14.8% as cost savings mitigated the top-line decline. However, as we looked beyond 2020, we recognized the need to ensure these temporary cost savings could become more permanent in order to return the Group to growth and deliver margin improvement.

Comprehensive review

In August 2020, the Group announced a comprehensive review to accelerate the structural reform and business transformation required. Ultimately, the review addressed how to improve value for our shareholders, employees, and clients.

The review launched with four clear focused areas:

1. Create a more simplified structure
2. Structurally and permanently lower operating expenses
3. Enhance the efficiency of our balance sheet
4. Maximize long-term shareholder value

The Group took swift, decisive action, with a

1. Create a more simplified structure: benefitting both clients and internal operations

Dentsu Japan Network will simplify its structure into four business lines: Advertising transformation, Business transformation, Customer experience transformation, and Digital transformation. This new structure will streamline operations, drive revenue synergies as well as create efficiency among corporate functions.

Dentsu International announced the decision to rationalize the number of brands from 160 to six global leadership brands. This will create a simplified, integrated and more efficient organization that is easier for our clients to navigate, reducing duplication and complexity across the business.

2. Structurally and permanently lower operating expenses: 75.0 billion yen saving from 2022

The structural reform announced at Dentsu Japan Network will generate 21 billion yen of cost reductions by 2022 through reviewing the human resource strategy and the reduction of real estate costs.

The transformation at Dentsu International announced on December 7, 2020, will deliver more than 54.7 billion yen of permanent cost reductions from personnel and other sources on an annual basis from the end of FY2021.

These cost reduction programs give us a strong line of sight on margin improvement the Group will deliver in the coming years. The Group remains committed to delivering an operating margin of 20% by 2022 for Dentsu Japan Network and 15% for Dentsu International—aiming to reach 17% at the Group level by 2024.

3. Enhance the efficiency of our balance sheet

On November 30, Dentsu Group announced the decision to divest the majority of its stake in Recruit Holdings, in line with our policy to reduce security assets. In Q4 FY2020, we sold 50 million shares of Recruit Holdings and continue to review our strategic shareholdings.

The review of non-trading assets to enhance shareholder value continues. In March 2021 we announced the sale of two smaller property assets in Japan and we have confirmed the review of the sale of the headquarters building in Shiodome, Tokyo.

4. Maximize long-term shareholder value

A buyback of 30 billion yen (maximum) was announced with our FY2020 results in February 2021 as we look to improve long-term shareholder value. We will continue to consider further shareholder returns following the sale of any additional exceptional assets.
CFO message

number of initiatives announced at the FY2020 results. In the six months after the announcement of the comprehensive review, the Group has made significant progress but there is much more to do. We look forward to updating you on our continued progress throughout FY2021.

Statutory operating loss in FY2020

As a result of the charges relating to the comprehensive review and accelerated transformation combined with an impairment charge, the Group reported a statutory operating loss of 140.6 billion yen in FY2020.

The associated cost of the Accelerated Transformation Plan is 78.3 billion yen by the end of FY2020 with an approximated total amount of 56 billion yen expected for FY2021. These costs will deliver annualized savings of approximately 75 billion yen from FY2022, with about 50 billion yen of savings expected to be booked in FY2021.

The carrying value of goodwill was reviewed for impairment each quarter during FY2020 in view of the global economic impact of the COVID-19 pandemic.

This review resulted in a decision to record a goodwill impairment amounting to 140.3 billion yen by recalculating the net present value of Dentsu International with a conservative view. This will leave the Group well placed as it looks to 2021 and beyond.

Strong balance sheet

The Group closed the year well capitalized, with a strong balance sheet, 530 billion yen of cash and cash equivalents. The Group’s credit rating from Japan’s Rating & Investments Information Inc. (R&I) remained at AA-.

Well placed to benefit from digital investments

The impact of COVID-19 accelerated many trends we already recognized within our society and our industry. Digital adoption and direct-to-consumer channels are a necessity for all our clients as consumer behavior continues to evolve. Our clients’ have recognized the need to respond, by leveraging data, while creatively engaging with consumers to create meaningful brand experiences.

Our fastest growth area remains digital, with 53.9% of the Group’s total revenue less cost of sales from digital activities—a sharp increase from 47.5% in 2019 (640bp YoY).

The Group’s total revenue from Customer Transformation & Technology reached 28% of Group revenue in 2020, 25% from Japan and 30% from Dentsu International. Our industry-leading assets including Merkle, ISID and Dentsu Digital have generated together a CAGR of over 20% over the past three years demonstrating our ability to deliver bespoke solutions that address client needs by combining data, analytics, and technology.

This area is where we will focus our M&A spend going forward.

Medium-Term Management Plan and targets

The Dentsu Group Medium-term Management Plan: “Sustainable Growth through Transformation” for the four-year period from 2021 to 2024 was released in February 2021, providing our stakeholders with a roadmap for the next four years.

FY2021 remains a transitional year for the Group with FY2022 and beyond, delivering a return to growth and improving margin profile.

We have created four pillars against which our targets and commitments are set.

FY2021 remains a transitional year for the Group with FY2022 and beyond delivering a return to growth and improving margin profile
1. Transformation & Growth
Growth will be driven through the continued rollout of Integrated Growth Solutions and dentsu Sustainable Business Solutions.

2. Operations & Margin
Reducing complexity across our business is the focus for our simplification—reducing duplication across the Group improves efficiency and reduces costs.

3. Capital allocation & Shareholder returns
The Group will adopt a disciplined approach to capital allocation with a priority to enhancing shareholder value.

4. Social impact & ESG
We consider it essential to commit to our social impact and ESG goals for the sustainability of our business. Group-wide initiatives, including the establishment of the “Sustainable Business Board,” will support our specific goals.

Looking ahead
Despite the challenges of this year we remain focused on our strategy of delivering Integrated Growth Solutions that drive top-line growth for our clients beyond marketing.

Our high performance and agile culture gives me the utmost confidence the Group can emerge from this crisis stronger with a keen focus on creating value for all our stakeholders.
Corporate governance: shift from creating a robust system to enhancing efficiency

In August 2020, we launched a Comprehensive Review of our business operations and capital efficiency and in February 2021, we announced our Medium-term Management Plan for FY2021–FY2024. Effective corporate governance will support the delivery of our plan and ultimately deliver improved shareholder value.

Of the 13 members of the Dentsu Group Board, five are independent Outside Directors, four non-Japanese Directors, and three female Directors. Together, they represent diversity of voice, with a variety of professional experience.

In FY2019 and FY2020, Outside Directors’ meetings were held in addition to our regular Board of Directors’ meetings. These provided the opportunity needed to conduct the review of business operations and capital efficiency and support the formulation of our Medium-term Management Plan.

To date, the focus has been on setting up a robust system of governance in line with the Corporate Governance Code. Accordingly, we have Nomination and Compensation Advisory Committees with Outside Directors.

In the future, however, we believe there will be a need to make governance even more effective. Thus, for example, in FY2020, we began to enhance the Board’s efficiency. This we are doing—in addition to conducting third-party surveys and producing reports based on these—by having third parties conduct interviews with Board members, publishing reports, and encouraging Directors to openly exchange opinions regarding the reports. We have made continued efforts to enhance the effectiveness of the Board. We make Directors aware of their changing roles, the Board’s agenda, and the agenda items that should be discussed by Board members.

The Board will continue its efforts to improve corporate governance. I believe strong corporate governance can support and enhance the corporate value of Dentsu Group over the medium to long term, through sustainable growth.

Teaming to achieve the never before

2020 was a year of unexpected challenges for society, the economy, businesses, and people throughout the world and Dentsu Group pulled together to support our clients and stakeholders in unprecedented ways. The pandemic struck in the midst of our planned transformation of the business and therefore we responded to accelerate its velocity. It was a year of new beginnings and opportunities, demonstrating our resilience and confidence in our future.

We launched Dentsu Group Inc. in January 2020 to create a company that harnesses to the full effect the diversity of our talent and the breadth of our innovation capability. We knew that our future differentiation and competitiveness did not lie solely in holding competitive assets and businesses in 145 markets across the globe, but in how those businesses work together to provide transformative integrated solutions for brands, clients, partners, and society. Dentsu Group aims to organize ourselves into a flat and open network, acting to support “Teaming” across our agencies to stimulate collaboration, linking people, ideas, and solutions to create new value, and encouraging and supporting the development of our talent and efficiency of our delivery.

Our initial focus is to evolve from being a holding company to a “Teaming Company.” In the most simple sense, this means that we do together what can best be done as a Group while empowering the entrepreneurship and innovation of each organization and individual to stimulate, create, and inspire.

Throughout 2020, we identified areas best aligned at the Group level. We have worked to safeguarding our business through aligned compliance and governance, strengthened communications and reputation management, building common operational and technology platforms and talent development programs. We have also worked on shaping our business by launching a common vision, inviting all stakeholders to pursue the “never before” and establishing a common set of values we call “the 8 Ways.” Shared vision and values are the bond that brings together our diverse talents and bridges cultures.

In February 2021, the Group announced the Medium-term Management Plan with initiatives to review our capital strategy and accelerate transformation as a Group. We have also identified areas to deliver new levels of servicing through joint initiatives and collaboration around data & technology, sports & entertainment, global clients, innovation, industry verticals, and sustainable business solutions.

Initiatives to promote and encourage Teaming will continue to evolve and be dynamic. The diversity of our talent, specialists, and integrated offerings are what drives our innovation. Through Teaming, we will unlock more synergies across the Group and support the connection of anyone from anywhere in the world to create, ideate, and develop solutions to drive sustainable growth for all our stakeholders.

Medium-term Management Plan  Sustainable Growth through Transformation

The Dentsu Group Medium-term Management Plan: “Sustainable Growth through Transformation” for the period from 2021 to 2024 was released in February 2021, providing our stakeholders with a roadmap for the next four years. In order to achieve transformation and sustainably enhance our corporate value, we will focus on the following four areas.

1. Transformation & Growth
Revenue synergies will be created across the Group by scaling key client relationships and expanding the number of services we are delivering to our clients. By leveraging our diverse assets we can deliver larger solutions to the problems our clients face. Our growth will be driven through the continued rollout of Integrated Growth Solutions and dentsu Sustainable Business Solutions.

2. Operations & Margin
Reducing complexity across our business is the focus for our simplification—our organization becomes easier to navigate for our clients and our people, and reducing duplication across the Group eases operations and reduces costs.

Our use of near- and offshoring increased over the years. We will look to build on this success creating a more flexible cost model for our business, helping us to deliver value to our clients. Technology will continue to change how our people work together—how we team without limits. A reduction in our real estate needs is under consideration for both the Japan and the international businesses.

Standardizing group functions will generate cost synergies as we look to create a more standardized approach to our Group functions including finance, HR, technology and governance.

3. Capital allocation & Shareholder returns
The Group will adopt a disciplined approach to capital allocation with a priority to enhance shareholder value.

We are in the process of reviewing all non-trading assets to transform the balance sheet. The divesture of non-trading assets will create room inside the Group to own new assets that support our business strategy. We will invest for growth, both in organic growth through investment in new technology and product innovation, and also in-organic growth through M&A. Acquisitions will focus on high growth data and digital assets in both Japan and the international markets. Fewer acquisitions, but of larger scale in the high-growth area of Customer Transformation & Technology is our execution plan. Our aim is to rebuild a leaner asset portfolio to achieve higher ROE. Return of profit to our shareholders is also a strong focus. Our commitment is to progressively improve the dividend payout ratio based on the underlying basic EPS from 28.5% in 2020 to 35% over the next few years. Going forward, additional shareholder returns will be considered in parallel with the sale of exceptional assets.

4. Social impact & ESG
To integrate our own social impact efforts with business growth we have established the Sustainable Business Board to drive social value for society and clients.

As a group, we are committed to playing our role in mitigating the worst impacts of climate change. We will support the growth of every individual in our organization through a diverse and inclusive culture and drive good governance to generate long-term business success.

Integrated Growth Solutions
Integrating our diverse capabilities across the Group.
Delivering top-line growth for our clients, beyond marketing.

Our strategy of Integrated Growth Solutions remains the center point of our vision. As we integrate our diverse capabilities across the Group, we will deliver top-line growth for our clients, beyond marketing.

Integrated Growth Solutions create integrated solutions for all customer experiences, starting with consumer intelligence based on data and technology, and using creativity to integrate the Group’s diverse capabilities. In doing so, we will achieve growth for our clients. Throughout its history, the Group has expanded its capabilities and diversified its revenue streams by combining traditional and new capabilities. The result is a market position that is unrivaled today.

Content, media activation, and creative form part of our marketing communication practice—while marketing technology, CXM, systems integration, and transformation & growth strategies form part of our Customer Transformation & Technology practice.

Over time, our capabilities have expanded from executional work to strategic projects that deliver greater value to our clients. As digital adoption accelerates, this fits precisely with our competitive advantage as one of the very few integrated global innovators who integrates diverse capabilities. This remains a significant opportunity for the Group in FY2021.

Customer Transformation & Technology
Through our early investment in digital and data our expertise is centered in the fast growth areas of the market where we remain well positioned.

53.9% of our activities are generated from digital activities in 2020—in Dentsu International that reached 67.5% and in Dentsu Japan Network that reached 34.8%.

28% of our group revenue is generated from Customer Transformation & Technology services.

The growth of Customer Transformation & Technology is underpinned by three companies with industry leading capabilities including Merkle, ISID, and Dentsu Digital, which together have generated a CAGR revenue growth of over 20% over the past three years, demonstrating our ability to deliver bespoke solutions that address our clients’ needs combining data, analytics, and technology.

This is our fastest growth area of the business and where we see greatest potential for the Group in the coming years. Over time we expect to increase the revenue from Customer Transformation & Technology, which is currently 28%, to 50% of Group revenues. This shift will be driven by organic growth—growth from our existing assets supported by investment to develop new products and services—and also by targeted acquisitions.
Integrated Growth Solutions

The foundation for outstanding consumer intelligence
Consumer Intelligence underpins the broad capabilities of the Group. This is the data, analytics, and insights that lead to an understanding of consumer behavior. The Group possesses a multilayered array of data and analytics tools and has the human resources to use them to meet the challenges of its clients.

“CCS” and “People Driven Marketing” for media planning and customer journey design and “M1” and “Merkury,” which comprehensively analyze and operate third and first party data, are our proprietary tools.

Wide network of partners
The Group also engages in partnerships and alliances with technology companies and platformers at a group level on a global basis, building relationships that outperform the competition in terms of both quantity and quality. Leveraging our global scale across both the Japan and international businesses allows us to become true partners to platforms such as Google, Facebook, Z Holdings, and Rakuten as well as technology companies such as Salesforce, Adobe, and AWS.

In these partnerships and alliances, we have already achieved a high degree of synergy between our Japanese and international operations, giving the Group a competitive advantage. Through our proprietary solutions, developed in conjunction with these platforms, we are able to differentiate our offerings from those of our peers.

Talent development for growth
In order to continue developing capabilities to meet the needs of our clients, the growth of all our employees is essential.

Thus, to respect the diversity of employees and support their continuous growth, the Group offers access to a wide range of training programs, in conjunction with group-wide programs to help design the careers of all employees. One program promotes flexible assignments across the entire group, while tirelessly striving to create a work environment that enables employees to fully realize their potential.

We believe that fostering a culture in which employees with diverse capabilities can create teams that transcend organizational and geographical constraints will significantly enhance our growth strategy.

Tokyo Game Show 2020 Online Powered by Amazon Japan
From 2020 onward, Dentsu will co-host the Tokyo Game Show (TGS), one of the three largest game shows in the world. TGS 2020 was organized completely online for the first time ever due to the COVID-19 pandemic, and Dentsu worked with Amazon Japan to stream sponsors’ videos and offer a live commerce platform with strong content on Amazon.co.jp, allowing visitors to purchase sponsors’ products on site. It has become a milestone event in the new era.

TOYOTA CONIQ
A new format of partnerships for our clients’ marketing digital transformation is emerging. Toyota: Coniq, a new joint venture with Toyota, which is pursuing its transformation as a mobility company, is one example. Dentsu’s people-based solutions are expected to contribute to a deeper layer of the transformation through a united organization involving our client.
Dentsu Group’s commitment to our people means helping everyone develop new skills and realize their growth potential. Through performance development, feedback, access to personal growth, career opportunities, and regular career conversations, we ensure everyone in Dentsu Group is able to own their career development.

By continuing to embed performance development and through timely, open feedback and regular conversations around performance and development, we create a positive culture where everyone can reach their full potential. The leadership model at Dentsu was created to help everyone, no matter where they are on their career journey, to understand what is expected at every level. The leadership model sets out the core competencies and behaviors to all of our employees as We all Lead. We have also focused on understanding and developing our people, through talent mapping and succession planning. The need for up-to-date and accurate data continues to grow in importance. We have the foundations in place to better understand the talent pipeline, mobility and resourcing needs across Dentsu Group.

Career development across the Group
Dentsu Group’s career framework is designed to outline specific skills and capabilities to help people unlock career opportunities across the business. It is now being rolled out to the organization and employees can see where their role fits in the organization, be able to understand the skills and experience required at every level, and identify potential future career opportunities. By focusing on role profiling and building “job families,” individuals no longer have to consider a single career path based on experience. Everyone can consider a wide range of fresh opportunities based on their skills and aspirations. For the Group, the career framework enables better workforce planning, talent management, and optimization of our workforce capabilities and strengths.

Understanding employees through data and insights
The voice of our employees matters. That is why we run Check In, our global employee engagement survey. This year, through Check In, we’ve kept our finger on the pulse of our organization, providing an opportunity for everyone to share their voice and created a platform for leaders to access key insights into their teams. The HR function has taken an integrated approach, with one core platform and a common set of questions for better insights across the whole Dentsu Group.

Prioritizing our people during a pandemic
Since the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic, Dentsu Group has focused on the health and safety of its employees; paying extra attention to engaging on a regular basis, using various communication channels. We have offered working from home arrangements, opportunities to connect through technology, learning communities, and listening to our employees on what further support they needed.

The global pandemic has fundamentally changed our expectations and understanding of what “work” and “away from work” is, and how society changes more broadly through the interaction between both. In 2021, we expect the majority of our offices will re-open. We are evolving our ways of working and reaching new levels of support for our people both mentally and physically, so that they continue to thrive at work under very different circumstances. We acknowledge that returning to the office and navigating the changed workspace will amount to a lot for our people to process. With this in mind, we are working together to take measured steps which gradually move us to this new way of working, learning, and interacting as we go.

We are acting on a real opportunity to accelerate our culture with the behaviors and mindsets of radical collaboration, speed and agility, inclusivity, doing the right thing, and accountability for results and outcomes—all coming together to collectively maximize how we work in the future. This will be a key enabler of our transformation journey and an opportunity to deliver meaningful progress for our people, our clients, our business, and our society more broadly.
dentsu Sustainable Business Solutions

Providing clients with Dentu’s solutions that integrate social responsibilities and business growth strategies

dentsu Sustainable Business Solutions (dSBS) are provided to amplify the social value of a client’s business with the Group’s strengths of creativity based on deep insight into client companies, consumers, and society.

With the massive rise of consumer interest in the social values and functions of businesses, companies are under scrutiny like never before. Moving forward, they must earn their social license to operate by building transparency, trust, and reliability with customers and the wider public.

As a company that has been a bridge between business and society for 120 years, it is our duty to continue to help our clients accelerate their transformation agenda.

At the same time, it is essential that we play a leadership role at the Group management level, as our organization expands globally to deliver dSBS to a wide range of customers and contribute to the growth of society.

In 2021, we set up the Sustainable Business Board (SBB) for this purpose (see p. 37).

Our senior management will participate in and is committed to the promotion of dSBS and Dentsu Group activities as a corporate citizen under one roof. SBB facilitates Knowledge management among the Group companies to deliver SBB, with each Group company leveraging its strengths to customize service for our clients.

For example, the insights on the environmental impact of manufacturing and consumer behavior are shared Group-wide. Meanwhile, Company A, which is responsible for media planning, and Company B, in charge of commerce service development, will provide the components of an integrated solution to clients based on their unique strengths.

Efforts to provide dSBS throughout the Dentsu Group have only just begun, and we expect significant progress to be made as we implement our Medium-term Management Plan.

Newspaper becoming an advertising medium

At the time of our founding, we supported newspaper companies through news distribution and advertising sales. To realize a prosperous society, newspaper became an important advertising medium for increasing awareness and understanding of client products and services that meet consumer needs.

World Expo

At the Japan World Exposition held in Osaka in 1970, we were involved in event management and functioned as an agency for global corporate exhibitors and overseas governments, substantially contributing to advancing relations between entities in Japan and abroad.

Commercial television

Having conducted detailed research into technological developments in the United States, we were confident the era of radio broadcasting would also come to Japan. We created commercial television broadcasting stations with newspaper companies, contributing to the development of a medium that has become indispensable to society by providing a wide range of content: news, culture and entertainment as demanded by consumers.

Sponsored sports

The 1964 Tokyo Olympics were covered live and in color by television broadcasts and in extensive newspaper articles that electrified the entire nation. Dentsu’s company-wide efforts contributed to the success of the Tokyo Olympics, expanding the business potential of sporting events.
Regional revitalization

We advocated a U-turn policy—Let’s Go Back to Ono—to address concerns about the dwindling population of Ono City, Fukui Prefecture. Accordingly, the historical castle town’s history and charms were depicted using posters and photo albums created in cooperation with town revitalization leaders and local high school students. These contributed to the region’s revitalization.

Isobar Good

Isobar launched Isobar Good, an initiative that uses Isobar’s skills, expertise, and tools to support client-company brands, businesses, and non-governmental organizations. It aims to partner with businesses and brands, to achieve the United Nations’ Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Using technology to watch sports

To make it easier to understand fencing matches in which it is difficult to capture decisive moments with the naked eye, we utilized machine learning and other technologies to visualize the trajectory of the sword tip as it moves,* using athlete biometric data. We created a new sport-watching experience unlike any in the past.

*Tunamatics fencing tracking and visualization system

2000 2010 2020

Using AI to evaluate the quality of tuna

TUNA SCOPE is an AI-based system that judges the quality of natural tuna using cross-sectional images of their tails. Developed by Dentsu, ISID, and Sojitz Corporation, the goal behind the development of this system was to pass down skills in the field of tuna evaluation, an area with a serious shortage of successors.

SDGs Business Solutions

Six Dentsu Japan Network companies (Dentsu Inc., Dentsu Tec, Dentsu Public Relations, Dentsu Live, Dentsu Digital, and ISID), collaborated with Material ConneXion Tokyo to launch SDGs Business Solutions that offer consulting services to develop a circular economy to combine SDGs and growth.

At the Summit

At the 2019 G20 summit meeting in Osaka, we supported conference facility construction and international media center operations, while showcasing Japanese cutting-edge technology and conveying Osaka’s appeal and attractions. This strengthened the impression of Japan across the globe.
CASE 1

WATERS takeshiba

An urban development project by East Japan Railway Company in Takeshiba, Tokyo. Dentsu has turned around the not well-known area through an integrated branding approach, from developing its concept and naming based on consumer insight, to designing a plaza—presenting Takeshiba as a symbol of a water capital, Tokyo. Dentsu has collaborated with overseas artists to convey the message “In Takeshiba, city-dwellers can enjoy Tokyo Bay and the Hamarikyu Gardens.” Dentsu succeeded in transforming Takeshiba into a popular destination and now visitors can enjoy the natural environment, biodiversity, and sustainable urban development, all at once without leaving central Tokyo.

CASE 2

Novozymes’ “Plant Assistant” app to analyze wastewater

Novozymes is the world leader in biological solutions. Isobar worked with the Novozymes team to develop a Plant Assistant app powered by image recognition software and AI to analyze wastewater. In fractions of seconds, the app’s image recognition software and AI can examine an image from a microscope, determine the type of bacteria in the water, and suggest the best and most gentle biological method of treatment. Plant Assistant has reduced analysis of water samples from weeks to seconds, leading to a faster way to clean water.
Dentsu Group’s value creation model

For companies, solving social issues and growing their businesses are now inseparable. Through its businesses, the Dentsu Group will support social issues such as increasing environmental awareness, social disparity, and wellbeing. The solutions which Dentsu Group delivers integrate its diverse capabilities in marketing communications, data & analytics, and content. By setting Integrated Growth Solutions and dentsu Sustainable Business Solutions as the dual axis of services provided to our clients, we aim to build a process of value creation that circulates through society, thereby achieving sustainable growth and enhancing corporate value.

Dentsu Japan Network

Contributing to the sustainable development of our clients and society through transformation

Hiroshi Igarashi
Director and Executive Officer, Dentsu Group Inc.
President & CEO, Dentsu Japan Network
Representative Director, President & CEO, Dentsu Inc.

Dentsu Japan Network (hereinafter, “DJN”) business accounted for over 40% of Dentsu Group’s revenue less cost of sales, and half of its underlying operating profit in 2020. DJN has some 20,000 employees at more than 130 companies.

Becoming an Integrated Growth Partner
In times of abrupt change, clients need partners that will work with them to solve complex issues, transform business, and realize growth.

DJN aims to become an “Integrated Growth Partner,” a true partner committed to the sustainable growth of our clients and society. We believe we can provide new value for society by helping our clients expand their businesses. This should result in sustainable growth for ourselves, our clients, and society as one.

Sustainable growth through Integrated Growth Solutions
Advances in data and technology have led to more sophisticated and complex advertising, marketing, customer experience design, business development, and business design—our specialty areas.

In order to drive growth for our clients, we must strengthen our expertise in each of these areas. At the same time, our integrated planning and execution must go beyond business domain and organizational frameworks.

To this end, DJN will leverage the diverse capabilities of each company in the network to provide “Integrated Growth Solutions (IGS)” that contribute to the sustainable development of our clients and society.

Additionally, we will introduce indicators facilitating the measurement of clients’ sustainable growth, that strengthen collaboration, evaluation, and improvements across business domains.

Our transformation
To provide clients with IGS, we have redefined our domestic business. Having divided it into four domains—AX, BX, CX, and DX—we plan to boost the value provided by each domain.

Further, we aim to help optimize the functions of the companies within DJN by grouping them into the four business domains based on specialization and the potential for synergy creation. This will enable us to maximize the capabilities of each company within Japan while strengthening DJN’s competitiveness.

We also plan to strengthen Dentsu Group’s platform businesses (data, sports, other content, etc.) that will add distinctive value across these domains. We will also look to advance and increase efficiencies in our corporate functions.

By enhancing human resources liquidity and specialization, we will seek to maintain a work environment in which employees who help increase value can come together for mutual empowerment. Office environments will be redesigned and workstyle reforms updated to make employees more effective in this age of remote work.

DJN will equip itself with the skill set and mindset necessary to provide IGS, and develop the consumer insights, ideas, and creative capabilities that are our strengths.

By so doing, we aim to achieve a transformation that will generate original DJN value, enabling us to become an Integrated Growth Partner.
In digital advertising, television commercials, media creative efforts, and all other advertising activities, improving ROI requires that indicators be directly linked to the sustainable growth of business, the plan-do-check-act cycle based on those indicators, and a data infrastructure that enables the cycle to support continuous improvement.

Data infrastructure is essential for businesses, and must ensure secure environments for consumers and provide value and experiences that make users want to remain connected.

Thus DJN will support data-driven transformation, not only of sophisticated and efficient advertising, but also of business organizations. We will achieve this through the use of "Data Clean Rooms"* and the development of new indicators, which help balance market needs with privacy protection requirements.

* A secure environment that analyzes platform data for each ID within a range of specific consumer permissions.

Over the past few years, it has become harder to gain competitive advantage and increasingly important to foster relationships with customers.

At the same time, many clients are under pressure to transform the customer experience they offer, in terms of how they communicate, create products, and engage in sales.

In this environment, specialized DJN teams provide total support, covering a broad area. It includes the formulation of strategies based on a thorough understanding of the client; the design of journeys, services, and UX/UI; the design and development of data infrastructure; as well as the cultivation of human resources who can promote transformation and organizational design.

Our aim is to continue contributing to sustainable business growth as a partner with which to realize the design and fruition of client company transformation leaders.

In terms of digital transformation in marketing domains, we think in terms of offense and defense. The former involves the transformation of contacts and communications with consumers; the latter requires that a foundation be set up to build core systems and customer management systems.

DJN is the domestic leader in the communications domain and works in conjunction with ISID, which has a wealth of experience in building and implementing such core systems as ERP at large companies. Together, DJN and ISID will combine their knowledge and expertise to offer distinctive marketing-based approaches to support their clients’ business transformation.

Dentsu Digital, Dentsu Isobar (merged with Dentsu Digital on July 1, 2021), and ISID have already formed the cross-functional Dentsu DX Ground, which is a cross-Group organization that addresses client issues and promotes new initiatives.
Important Themes of Transformation

Yamahara: Your commitment to transformation has been impressive and the Task Force has devised a variety of measures to support it. What are the important themes of transformation?

Mr. Nishii: There are two important themes to provide solutions for food and health issues whilst contributing to the wellness of one billion people.

The first involves “personalized nutrition.” To help solve individual health issues in the future, it will be essential to provide solutions tailored to the lifestyles of individual consumers.

The second challenge concerns “food resources.” In the future, the currently available sources of protein may not be sustainable, while supplies of food may be adversely affected as water resources risk becoming increasingly depleted. In addition, there are issues surrounding food loss and waste, both of which must be reduced by 50% to realize a sustainable society. We recognize that solutions will not come from our expertise alone.

Never Forget the “Picture of the Future”

Yamahara: I often hear you talk about ventures in connection with the venture capital arm set up by Ajinomoto. Do you believe that instilling a venture spirit is required to deliver transformation?

Mr. Nishii: Yes. Ventures are one important component of our transformation. A venture spirit is indispensable for creating new businesses and generating new value beyond the boundaries of our existing businesses.

We also cannot ignore the power of digital communication to deliver new value to consumers and society. To achieve our goal to change our architecture, I believe we need to have the venture spirit and collaborate with similar-minded firms.

For example, in the area of personalized nutrition, we already have competitive solutions around food—however, that is not enough to create new value.

To drive innovation, we must partner with innovators who explore ways to capture and convey data about people’s health, or with companies that have expertise to create solutions based on the visualized data.

Yamahara: New value can be created by joining forces with people and companies in different business fields. Promoting such collaboration could be a driving force for your business vision.

Mr. Nishii: If innovations happened in cooking methods and ideas for preparing food and menu items were produced by artificial intelligence, the human input would need to be reimagined. Likewise, if innovations were to arise in systems for delivering items to customers, we would need to develop products that could be easily transported by those systems. Through collaboration with partners who welcome new challenges, I believe new business fields can be created.

When creating a new business or a new business model, it is important to look 10 years into the future. So, for example, the food we are focused on now, such as plant-based proteins and meat substitutes, may be replaced by yet other new food items within the next decade. Therefore, when considering innovation, we should never forget the “Picture of the Future.”

Yamahara: You have an increasingly broader vision for the future. However, if the scope of the activities becomes too wide, human resources and assets may need to become more concentrated?

Mr. Nishii: I am aware we will need to make choices as we expand our business. Ideally, we want to continuously replace 10% of our sales with new businesses. As a leader, however, I also hope to choose businesses that not only contribute to financial results, but also benefit ever greater numbers of people.
Together, we are transforming Dentsu International to become the most integrated media and digital marketing communications network in the world. We will do this by radically simplifying our business, and connecting our people, capabilities and products around the needs of our clients, and our market-leading understanding of their consumers.

While this journey will take time, I am pleased with the momentum and progress we have made so far. Since joining Dentsu International nine months ago I have been honoured to be part of this team of 45,000 talented people who have delivered so much, and most crucially supported our clients and each other during such uncertain times.

Our people

Despite a prolonged period of remote working our team has remained connected and focused. In November 2020, we achieved our highest employee engagement score in three years in our annual survey. This is testament to the resilience of our people, and the visible and accessible leadership we have seen across our business.

The injustices and inequalities too often seen in society were brought into sharp focus in 2020. We continued our commitment to driving and influencing positive change, recognizing that this starts with looking at ourselves and our own organization. To guide and accelerate this vital work we have appointed Chief Equity Officers in each of our regions and invested in inclusive leadership training for our Top 900 managers and action-based training for all employees. We have also committed to being gender balanced at every level of our organization by 2025.

The strength of our talent is the strength of our business. To support the development and growth of our people, we have implemented a Group-wide career framework to enable greater opportunity and mobility; we have introduced tailored talent programs and created a global learning community with over 32,000 participants. The wellbeing of our people remains a key priority and, as we continue to address the impacts of lockdowns and social restrictions, we are bolstering our investment in mental health and wellness support.

I am determined that Dentsu will remain a company of choice for global talent, attracting and retaining the brightest and most diverse minds from across the world.
Our clients and work
We are privileged to have relationships with 95 of the world’s top 100 advertisers. We’ve also recently recorded our highest ever client satisfaction scores. This gives us an incredible foundation to expand and deepen these existing strong client relationships.

Additionally, our business has received significant industry recognition including MediaPost Holding Company of the Year 2020; 2020 Network of the Year at Spikes Asia; Gartner recognition of Merkle as a leader in CXM; Forrester recognition of Isobar as a leader for digital experience. These accolades attest to the strength of our work and enable us to attract new clients and talent.

Our transformed and simplified business
Client feedback to the agency sector is consistent: we must make ourselves easier and more agile to do business with. With this in mind, we are delivering ahead of our internal plans to optimize our 160 agencies to six global brands leadership brands by the end of 2022.

Our accelerated transformation is unequivocally our path to sustainable growth, it will reduce duplication and costs, ensure we return to delivering performance ahead of peers and meeting our stated margin goal of 15% by 2022.

Our social impact
In 2020 we achieved our RE100 commitment to power our company on 100% renewable energy sources where markets allow,* the first holding company to do so. Dentsu International was the first holding company to commit to achieving net zero emissions by 2030, with an approved science-based target to reduce absolute carbon emissions by 46%. Additionally, in the third-party Carbon Disclosure Project environmental assessment, we achieved an “A-” rating, the highest in the agency sector.

We are the industry leaders and will continue to integrate social good into everything we do.

The year ahead
We look to the year ahead with renewed optimism and unwavering focus on delivering our strategy, transformation and sustained performance. Building on the strong foundations we have laid this year to maximize the opportunities we see in the marketplace and unlock further potential in our own business.

We will continue to integrate and optimize our brand portfolio at pace and develop our technology platforms to connect the end-to-end customer journey, bringing together data & insights, products & platforms and processes & talent into one environment. This will enable unrivalled agility, collaboration and innovation at scale for our clients.

There is still a lot to do and even more exciting times to come. We are on the right path and there is much to be proud of already. Onward!

* For a company to be RE100 compliant, it is required to purchase the energy from the same country in which it is used. For nine markets (Russia, Taiwan, Singapore, New Zealand, Hong Kong, Kenya, Sri Lanka, Ghana and Argentina) accounting for 9.7% of Dentsu International’s electricity demand, factors beyond Dentsu International’s control have prevented adherence with RE100’s guidelines to source renewables within the countries’ borders. The company has shown ambition by purchasing renewable energy certificates (RECs) from adjacent countries where possible. RE100 supports this approach as an interim measure while the coalition works to improve supply in these markets. For the purposes of reporting and in line with RE100 guidance, the European Economic Area is considered a single market.
The power of brand building, content, and storytelling, with the precision of performance, data, and technology

Dentsu International’s Media Service Line is the home of Carat, iProspect, and dentsuX, award-winning global agencies who provide clients with integrated media planning and investment services. For many clients, media is their largest marketing investment, and we are well-positioned to increase the contribution it makes to their success.

Marketers have an increasingly wide canvas of media opportunities to design in delivering rich brand experiences to people. They also need to navigate an increasingly complex environment.

Our success in the Media Service Line is grounded in a unique understanding of audiences and the ability to navigate the data-led, technology-driven, and increasingly regulated media landscape. As the agency holding group with the strongest heritage in media, we bring together the power of brand building, content, and storytelling, with the precision of performance, data, and technology.

In 2020, our agencies topped many of the most trusted global media agency rankings. Forrester named Carat as a leader. dentsuX was named the fastest growing global agency network by RECMA. In March, we also launched a repositioned iProspect as an end-to-end media agency network, combining the best of performance marketing with brand building. COMvergence ranked us #2 in their global new business rankings for 2020, further strengthening our enviable global client portfolio of 95 of the world’s top 100 advertisers.

We are ready to capitalize on the acceleration in consumers’ digital adoption experienced during the pandemic. Media has never been in a more powerful position to fuel our clients’ growth and propel society forward.

The economic recovery will see clients increasing their media investment, and we will expand our market share through an ambitious new business agenda, driven by our strong agency proposition. We are evolving our revenue models and simplifying how clients are serviced via the three powerhouse media agencies, supported by world-class scaled services with global common processes and ways of working that enhance efficiency.

As we transform, we are ready to deliver meaningful progress to our clients, partners, shareholders, employees and society through media.

Creativity liberated, on-demand

2020 was truly an exciting year of radical transformation. Remote working and a shift in consumption to new digital channels presented Dentsu Group with a new creative canvas to build sustainable brands, and a new teaming model delivering on-demand services for our clients.

During the pandemic, the Creative Service Line launched the innovative Cloud-based, AI-enabled, scaled global content solution “Content Symphony,” a solution that provides brands with integrated production services. By integrating right sharing production services with an AI-enabled technology platform, Content Symphony delivers a consistent brand experience at every touchpoint while engaging our clients’ audiences with highly personalised, market-relevant content.

This helped to transform our business from a legacy AOR model to AOR on Demand. AOR on Demand retains our deep understanding as a client’s long-term strategic partner, without the inflexible legacy infrastructure in every market. It liberates creativity and unleashes the power of Dentsu International’s innovative creative talent, wherever in the world they are. This approach saw us expand the American Express global creative assignment at the end of 2020.

Idea-led experiences that align belief and behavior, good and growth

2020 was also a year of radical transparency. As brand behaviors come under scrutiny as never before, there can be no disconnect between brand and experience, and doing good and driving growth. There must also be no discrepancy between belief and behavior—between a brand’s promise, and how it authentically delivers that promise in the lives of its consumers, employees and communities.

Brands today are built through connected creative experiences—made possible by technology, made personal by data, and made powerful by ideas. Our two global leadership brands, dentsu mcgarrybowen and Isobar help support the connection of brand and experience around the organizing power of an idea.

Clients today need the best multi-disciplinary teams—no matter where they physically are—to imagine, co-create and solve big business problems creatively.
Connected customer experience

Today’s most successful brands are built by providing superior customer experiences across marketing, sales, commerce, and service. The future of this “connected customer experience” is highly personalized, informed by data, and powered by technology. The market opportunity for the Customer Experience Management (CXM) Service Line is in taking the knowledge and insights derived from that data and delivering powerfully targeted and personal moments in time with the brand. These moments, orchestrated across multiple touchpoints, come together to deliver customer outcomes that form experiences, which, over time, create the loyalty and advocacy that build lasting relationships.

CXM is Dentsu International’s fastest-growing Service Line, having doubled in revenue over the past four years, driven by Merkle. This matrixed organization operates at the intersection of our capabilities and the distinct industries we serve. Our skilled marketing experts understand the unique needs of our clients, the market challenges they face, and the solutions needed to gain competitive advantage. Merkle is organized regionally, spanning the Americas, EMEA, and APAC. Our global clients rely on our deep knowledge of the market needs and regulatory requirements of every locality in which we operate.

Our strengths in first-party data, combined with identity resolution, data management, marketing technology, data sciences, loyalty, CRM, personalization, commerce, customer experience, consulting and performance media/creative services, have created differentiation against an evolving competitive landscape. As a result, we have seen consistent strong organic growth over 30 years, even amid significant market disruption, most recently propelled by a global pandemic, along with the collapse of third-party cookies and increasing privacy concerns.

As we move toward a new competitive set of digital transformation powerhouses, our equation for success is data transformation + digital transformation = customer experience transformation. Adding strength to our value proposition are our alliances with partners, such as Google, Adobe, Salesforce, AWS, and others. Through these relationships, we are tapping into the growth of enterprise experience technology and cloud services to enable hyper-personalized experiences for the brands we serve.

As the brands that comprise the CXM Service Line integrate, our go-to market strategy is centered around three broad categories:

- Data transformation is defined as the privacy-safe acquisition, management, analysis, and activation of valuable data that informs customer experiences in real time. It all starts with identity—the only way to gain the most complete view of customers is from first-party data that is reconciled across marketing, sales, commerce, and service.

- Digital transformation is defined as the modernized system that allows the business to organize around the customer and adapt to changing market opportunities and customer needs. It enables the delivery of personally and contextually relevant moments that form experiences and then foster relationships.

- Customer experience consulting comprises strategic advisory services that set the vision of an enterprise to progress through its CX transformation. We partner with brands to create market-level differentiation through a CX framework and the organizational and technology requirements to deliver on it.

Going forward, this Service Line will continue to develop new capabilities relating to customer experience transformation. We have our sights set on becoming the market leader for enabling and activating hyper-personalized customer experiences. Our future customers will be CEOs and members of the broader C-suite who are looking for meaningful business outcomes that create revenue, cost savings, competitive differentiation, and ultimately shareholder value.

Sustainability: Dentsu Group and society

“The Dentsu Group exists to realize a better society by contributing to the growth of our clients, partners, people, and all consumers.”—Toshihiro Yamamoto, Representative Director, President & CEO

Society is facing some of its greatest challenges. Climate change, biodiversity, and inequality are causing exponential disruption. COVID-19 has exposed the fragilities in our global economic system and highlighted the interconnected nature of our borderless world. More and more the role, contribution, and impact of business in society are under the microscope. Investors, governments, and citizens now expect business to deliver social value through their actions and their products. Over the next decade, companies will need to align purpose, strategy, and action with long-term value creation for society to motivate their people and thrive commercially as a sustainable business. This is now essential for organizations looking to maintain their social license to operate.

Dentsu Group is no exception. For 120 years, we have acted as a bridge between business, society, and consumers. We understand the ability we have to transform business models and influence the way that people think, feel, and act. By positioning social value creation at the heart of our business strategy, not only will we be able to better serve our clients and guide them through this disruption, but we can achieve sustainable business growth for another 100 years to come.

This philosophy is at the heart of Dentsu Group Medium-term Management Plan which includes four goals for the business, one of which is a focus on “Social Impact and ESG (Environment, Society, and Governance).” To ensure this goal is prioritized and remains at the heart of our strategy and plan, we have established new governance at the most senior levels of our business, including the creation of a “Sustainable Business Board” dedicated to integrating sustainability at the heart of our growth strategy, culture, and operations. Chaired by Wendy Clark, Global CEO, Dentsu International Limited, the Sustainable Business Board’s mission is to create a sustainable and profitable business model, delivering shared value for Dentsu Group and society.

The Sustainable Business Board will oversee the implementation of the “2030 Sustainability Strategy” with a focus on three core ambitions: creating a Sustainable World, Fair and Open Society, and using Digital for Good. These ambitions represent areas where Dentsu Group is uniquely positioned to add value, based on our culture, capabilities, and global ecosystem of clients and partners. Our expertise will help guide our clients through disruption and support them to transform their business models through sustainable business solutions.

To achieve these goals, we recognize the importance of embedding sustainability at the heart of our culture. The Sustainable Business Board is committed to ensuring that all 64,000 employees understand the importance of Dentsu Group’s role in society, that sustainability is the lens through which we do business and are inspired to realize our social purpose “To go beyond the here and now to create truly sustainable value for the lasting good of everyone.”

Our priorities
In January, we launched our “2030 Sustainability Strategy” for Dentsu Group. The strategy centres on three priority themes where we believe we can make a material difference to society and the environment.

Sustainable world:
Business as usual is no longer enough, best-in-class environmental performance is now a license to operate. We will accelerate the transition to a low carbon future and reduce the impact of climate change by becoming a Net Zero emissions business by 2030. But the radical decarbonisation of our business and value chain is only the first step. We also recognize that as a digital communications and marketing network, the biggest impact we have is in our ability to change mindsets and influence behaviors. We can raise awareness and inspire people to take action to combat the climate crisis and to live more sustainable lifestyles. Over the next decade, we are committed to helping 1 billion people make better, more sustainable choices.

Fair and open society:
Opportunity and equality are a basic right, not a privilege, yet inequality continues to plague our global society. As a business, our strength lies in difference. We pledge to seek out diverse perspectives, celebrate difference, and build an inclusive culture where everyone is empowered to bring their authentic self to work. We are also committed to ensuring we offer equity of opportunity to people who face additional challenges or inequality, and we collaborate with partners to do the same. In 2021, we are investing in our people and leaders through purpose-built education and training centred around “Inspiring Inclusion,” understanding our gender balance, setting ambitious goals, and putting in place clear paths to promotion for female talent. And while we are committed to creating opportunity for those who need it most, our role in driving change also lies in our ability to raise awareness and promote equality by spotlighting systemic inequality, including fair and equal access to education, healthcare, employment, and legal aid. We can open people’s eyes, create empathy, and challenge perceptions, helping to push boundaries and confront the difficult realities facing society today. For example, our “16 Days of Light Campaign” in South Africa sought to tackle normalized attitudes towards gender-based violence by literally shining a light on the darkest corners of South Africa, the locations of femicides. We drove action by asking people to pledge their support and encouraged women to seek help, with astonishing results reaching over 40 million people. By 2030, we aim to reach 1 billion people with campaigns that challenge perceptions and stereotypes.

Digital for good:
We believe digital inclusion is a basic human right and that having the skills and tools to control your own data builds trust and underpins digital wellbeing. However, our Dentsu Consumer Vision research found that seven out of 10 consumers worry that by 2030, they will have less control over their data, and today almost a quarter of consumers globally remain unwilling to share personal information under any circumstance. We are committed to closing the digital divide and helping digital realize its potential for good. Over the next decade, we will develop people’s understanding of the evolving digital landscape and create change for the better, going beyond inclusion to digital wellbeing. We will help people learn about data ownership, introduce more ethical data policies and practices for our entire value chain, and equip 100,000 young people with the skills and tools they need to feel in control of their digital lives. This includes collaborating with a diverse range of stakeholders to bring transparency, balance, and integrity to the industry, maximizing the positive role digital can play.

WBCSD membership
Driving long-term, sustainable change across a highly complex and interconnected world is not without its challenges. No problem exists in isolation, and incremental change is no longer sufficient to fix the world’s most pressing challenges. The World Business Council for Sustainable Development (WBCSD) is a CEO-led organization of over 200 forward-thinking companies working in partnership to accelerate the transition to a sustainable world. Members come from all business sectors and major economies representing a combined revenue of more than US$8.5 trillion. Dentsu Group became a member of the Council in 2021 under the direction of Hiroshi Igarashi, President and CEO of Dentsu Japan Network and Wendy Clark, Global CEO of Dentsu International. Our collective vision is “To create a world where more than nine billion people are all living well and within the boundaries of our planet, by 2050.” More information on WBCSD here: https://www.wbcsd.org/
2020 Highlights

Climate action

In 2020, we continued to deliver best-in-class environmental performance, reducing our overall Scope 1 and 2 carbon emissions by 56.9% since 2015 and procuring 100% renewable energy across our international operations, exceeding our interim 2020 environmental goals.* We achieved an A- in CDP, outperforming our sector and have been listed in the Dow Jones Sustainability Index for the fifth consecutive year since 2016 as well as in the FTSE4Good. We also achieved Silver status in EcoVadis. In July, Dentsu International signed the Business Ambition for 1.5 degrees and committed to achieving Net Zero emissions by 2030, underpinned by a new and approved Science Based Target at 1.5 degrees. In 2020, we cut the total Scope 1 and 2 emissions by 20.6% this year to 26,955 tonnes of CO₂, while the Scope 3 results were 23,066 tonnes. We support the Task Force for Climate-related Financial Disclosures and are currently in preparation for Group-wide disclosures according to its recommendations. For more detailed environment performance data, please refer to the ESG Data Summary (see p. 57).

* For a company to be RE100 compliant, it is required to purchase the energy from the same country in which it is used. For nine markets (Russia, Taiwan, Singapore, New Zealand, Hong Kong, Kenya, Sri Lanka, Ghana and Argentina) accounting for 9.7% of Dentsu International’s electricity demand, factors beyond Dentsu International’s control have prevented adherence with RE100’s guidelines to source renewables within the countries’ borders. The company has shown ambition by purchasing renewable energy certificates (RECs) from adjacent countries where possible. RE100 supports this approach as an interim measure while the coalition works to improve supply in these markets. For the purposes of reporting and in line with RE100 guidance, the European Economic Area is considered a single market.

Building a diverse and inclusive workforce

Building a diverse and inclusive workforce remains a priority for Dentsu Group. In 2020, we saw the appointment of Wendy Clark as Global CEO to Dentsu International and saw an increase in the number of women in senior leadership positions in the international business to 35%. In Dentsu Japan Network, the number is 12%. Today 14% of senior leaders across Dentsu Group are women. We joined the Valuable 500 to support disability in the workplace, became a signatory to the United Nations Women’s Empowerment Principles and co-founded the “Partnering for Racial Justice in Business initiative” announced at the World Economic Forum in January 2021.

Promoting equality

In April 2020, we rapidly digitised our global social impact programmes including Female Foundry, launching in the United States for the first time and helping to reach our goal of supporting 100 female founded businesses. Female Foundry has now launched in eight countries (Canada, Chile, India, Mexico, Russia, Singapore, South Africa, and the United States). We continued our collaboration with #SeeHer, including developing a gender equality index to help members identify unconscious bias, which was provided to the industry as an open source. It has become the global industry standard for measuring gender bias in ads and programming.

We continue to use the power of media and advertising to drive delivery of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals and in particular, SDG3, Health and Wellbeing. In April, on World Malaria Day, we launched a new brand, “Zero Malaria” to unite the global malaria community. Our work to end malaria within a generation remains critical with the World Health Organization expecting cases to increase by 50% in 2021 due to COVID-19. We also joined forces with the Association of National Advertisers in the United States to raise awareness of the importance of the COVID vaccine.

Digital rights

We took proactive action to reduce misinformation and eliminate hateful and harmful content online through strategic partnerships, including the Global Alliance Responsible Media, Conscious Advertising Network, and Responsible Media Forum. To support and empower the next generation during “Lockdown,” we took our award-winning schools programme “The Code” online, equipping young people with the digital and creative skills they need to thrive in a virtual world. The Code is now live in nine countries including the United Kingdom and United States and will launch in India in 2021. To date we have reached more than 14,000 young people through The Code.

dentsu Sustainable Business Solutions (dSBS)

Dentsu Group’s capabilities in data, creativity, human centric design, and digital mean we are ideally placed to guide and support organizations through disruption. In dentsu Sustainable Business Solutions, we combine these capabilities with rich insights into human behavior change to meet client demand for integrated solutions that deliver growth and measurable social and environmental impact. Through radical collaboration with our clients and partners, we can help clients and sectors transform to restorative and sustainable business models.

Materiality and/or vision

In 2020, we conducted research into the material risks and opportunities facing Dentsu Group. The process included interviews with investors, clients, activists, and over 300 dentsu colleagues from all over the world. We also leveraged expert insight from the World Economic Forum global risk register, research from the World Business Council for Sustainable Development, the Responsible Media Forum, and the Group’s own thought leadership, including our Digital Society Index and Consumer Vision. Five key themes dominated our research: Climate Change, Sustainable Consumption, Diversity and Inclusion, Reducing Inequality, and Trust—a particular issue for our sector related to issues of digital wellbeing, responsible content, data privacy, and data ethics.

One key theme was universal amongst our stakeholders—the ultimate ability of the Group to change mindsets and behavior. This insight and the five material themes sit at the heart of our new strategy and vision “We will inspire people everywhere to a new way of living.” And we will do this in three ways: by building a sustainable world, fair and open society, and ensuring digital fulfils its potential for good.

Messages from Directors

Gan Matsui
Independent Outside Director

Contributing to enhancing Dentsu Group’s corporate value through rigorous governance practices

More than one year has passed since the launch of Dentsu Group Inc.

The spread of COVID-19 throughout 2020 created a difficult business environment for both Dentsu Japan Network and Dentsu International.

Given these circumstances, Dentsu Group has begun a transformation on an unprecedented scale in the Group’s history. For these efforts to be successful, it is important that the management and all employees share a strong sense of purpose and implement changes supported by a consistent governance approach across the entire Group.

Outside Directors are committed to contributing to the growth of Dentsu Group and the enhancement of corporate value by ensuring thorough governance practices on behalf of our shareholders, and all other stakeholders.
In 2020, I was appointed a Dentsu Group Director and a member of the Audit and Supervisory Committee. In the wake of rapid changes underway in the global environment, the Board of Directors successively supported management with the launch of the Group’s Comprehensive Review in August followed by the launch of the Medium-term Management Plan in February 2021.

In formulating our Group’s Medium-term Management Plan and the Accelerated Transformation Plan, we undertook many discussions covering a broad range of perspectives. The urgency created by COVID-19 served to accelerate our plans to ensure the Group’s purpose and strategy are well understood by all our stakeholders.

The Audit and Supervisory Committee has worked with the management to continually enhance the Group’s corporate value and ensure a sound financial position and appropriate resource allocation, through transparent management decision-making processes and their assessment.

We will work to strengthen internal controls, audits, compliance, and risk management in accordance with our corporate governance principles. This will support the management team’s implementation of the Medium-term Management Plan to position the Group for recovery. Furthermore, we will fulfill our responsibilities in pursuit and development of an exceptional governance system that supports management and allows for nimble and swift decision-making.

It has been a very unusual year with the global COVID-19 pandemic and subsequent lockdowns across most economies. The Board and its committees have had to adapt and use video conferencing for most meetings. International Directors have not been able to travel to Japan. This has made good governance more difficult, but I think that we have coped well with this extra challenge.

We have two audit committees operating, one for the Japanese businesses and another, which I chair, for international. Both report into the Audit and Supervisory Committee (ASC), which then discusses further any major issues that arise. This works well for us with the size, geographical range and complexity of media businesses. It enables close scrutiny at a detailed level of audit and control matters that would be impossible for the ASC itself to undertake.

Our programme to enhance financial controls is continuing, particularly this year to look at culture and human resource management. Good controls are founded in strong and consistent processes and rules, but they are operated by thousands of different people across more than 145 countries. We need to ensure that our people are recruited, retained, motivated, developed, and flourish in a positive culture: One that encourages appropriate risk-taking, balancing entrepreneurial spirit with controls that enable us to manage risk. This is, of course, against continuing lockdowns, working from home in many countries, and of course the Accelerated Transformation Plan, which is reorganizing many brands, businesses and teams.

Corporate governance structure

Dentsu Group Inc. (hereinafter, the Company) has adopted a corporate governance structure defined as a Company with an Audit and Supervisory Committee that promotes swift and decisive management decisions by delegating certain authorities from the Board of Directors to Executive Officers. This strengthens the supervisory function provided by the Board of Directors, which includes at least four independent Outside Directors, and enhances effectiveness of auditing and internal control, in an attempt to enhance corporate value.

Under this system, the Company will realize effective corporate governance based on the following basic policy in order to fulfill its responsibilities to its stakeholders including shareholders, clients, employees and local communities, ensure sustainable growth, and enhance its corporate value over the medium to long term.

1. To respect shareholders’ rights and ensure their equal treatment.
2. To consider the interests of stakeholders, and cooperate with them appropriately.
3. To appropriately disclose company information and ensure transparency.

Initiatives aimed at enhancing effectiveness of governance

Evaluation of the Board’s effectiveness
To continuously increase the effectiveness of the Board of Directors, the Company implements an annual survey regarding the effectiveness and appropriateness of corporate supervision by the Board of Directors. Each Director evaluates the effectiveness of the Board of Directors, which, in turn, are analyzed and evaluated by a third-party institution. On receipt of the results from the secretariat of the Board of Directors, the Board of Directors evaluates the overall effectiveness, addresses issues raised and aims to improve the effectiveness.

Change to the method of evaluation on the effectiveness in the fiscal year ended December 31, 2020
The effectiveness of the Board of Directors had been evaluated using a questionnaire method until FY 2019. Due to the changes the Board of Directors underwent during FY 2020 such as the transition to a pure holding company and the promotion of its diversity, and in light of the announcement of the Medium-term Management Plan, the Company adopted an interview method where all Directors are interviewed by a third party in order to identify issues from a more medium-to long-term perspective.

Effectiveness evaluation
The FY2020 survey covered the following six items; the questionnaire had a total of 32 questions from 6 categories.
1. Strategic alignment and engagement (covering management strategy, capital policy, business portfolio review, ESG response, business risk, dialogue with shareholders); 9 questions.
2. The Board of Directors structure and system (succession plans, skill set); 3 questions.
3. Board of Directors processes and practices (Board management, deliberation themes, training); 8 questions.
4. Management supervision (risk management, global governance system, governance systems of listed subsidiaries); 8 questions.
5. Board of Directors culture and dynamics; 2 questions.
6. The supervisory function (only for Audit and Supervisory Committee members); 2 questions.

FY2020 evaluation procedure
1. Questionnaire (all Directors)
   Questionnaire answered prior to interview
2. Interview by a third-party (all Directors)*
   Interviews conducted to obtain candid opinions while ensuring anonymity
3. Exchange of views and opinions (all Directors)*
   Meetings held to exchange views and opinions among all Directors identified through the questionnaire and interviews with the presence of a third-party institution

FY2019 issues and progress
Improvement was seen in the “management and supervision of Group companies,” an issue identified in the analysis and evaluation in FY2019 as a result of the transition to a pure holding company. The rating of the “provision of necessary information for deliberation on management strategy” improved by the use of online portals and other means to enhance information provision.

However, the “CEO successor training plan” and the “provision of necessary information for deliberation on management strategy” were identified as ongoing issues, as there was room for further improvement.

Suggestions and actions for improvement
In January 2020, the Company embarked on major changes to its previous governance system, including the transition to a pure holding company and the promotion of diversity on the Board of Directors, and new suggestions have been made as a result of the process. The Company will aim to further enhance the effectiveness of the Board of Directors and strengthen its corporate governance through measures to consider these suggestions.

(1) Continuous improvement of the long-term vision, management strategy, and governance system supporting them
The long-term vision and management strategy should be reviewed in a timely and appropriate manner as the environment for the Company changes, and various measures to improve corporate value are implemented. Furthermore, the Company believes that it should not hesitate to flexibly review the organizational form and governance structure suitable for supporting the realization of the long-term vision and management strategy. What is important is that all Directors share the latest long-term vision and management strategy, and measures are implemented in a speedy manner under an appropriate governance system. Accordingly, the Company will pursue continuous improvement.

(2) Enhanced discussions on ESG issues and development of the Board of Directors’ common understanding
Recognizing that ESG issues are an important agenda for improving corporate value, the Board of Directors will deepen discussions on the entire Group’s sustainability strategy and establish a system to supervise subsequent actions.

(3) Intensified discussions on important topics by the Board of Directors / deeper communications by the Board of Directors
The Company will examine the annual schedule and other matters, set deliberation topics, and fix a schedule for the Board of Directors, with an aim to deepen the Board of Directors’ discussions on important topics. At the same time, measures to facilitate communication among Directors, including Outside Directors, will be implemented.

Training for Directors and Executive Officers
Directors and Executive Officers are provided with training and ongoing opportunities to acquire the knowledge essential for executing their duties in order to properly fulfill their given roles.

Enhancing board transparency

Executive compensation

(1) Compensation policy

In order to clarify the linkage between the Executive compensation and Dentsu Group’s business performance and corporate value, and to promote the sharing of interests with shareholders and other stakeholders, the Company determines the Executive compensation under the following policy. This also aims to raise the awareness of the Executive Officers to contribute to the sustainable growth of the Group and the enhancement of corporate value over the medium to long term.

The compensation system shall:

- Have a globally competitive structure and level
- Be based on management results, with an appropriate balance of fixed and variable compensation (monetary: annual bonus; performance-based: stock compensation as medium- to long-term bonus)
- Be at a level reflecting that in the relevant region

(2) Variable compensation

To further promote shared interests among stakeholders—including shareholders as well as Directors and Executive Officers—the indicators that had been used until FY2020 to determine variable compensation were revised in FY2021 (ending in December 2021).

The standard values for indicators determining variable compensation are from now on to be set each fiscal year, taking into account the macro- and micro-economic environment, as well as the Group’s business environment.

* Variable compensation ratios indicate percentages with the annual base salary as 100%.

Note: Directors who are foreign citizens, in principle, receive the main part of their compensation from overseas subsidiaries at which they concurrently serve as officers, and are thus not subject to the system shown above.

Variable compensation indicators

- Annual bonus indicators

From FY2021: Depending on the duties of the corporate officers to be compensated, either the Group consolidated underlying operating profit or the consolidated underlying operating profit of business in Japan, based on the IFRS.

Reason: This indicator of profit assesses ongoing business performance and has been determined to be a more appropriate indicator for evaluating business performance over one year.

- Performance-based stock compensation (medium- to long-term bonus)

Until FY2020: The simple three-year average of the Group’s consolidated revenue less the cost-of-sales organic growth rate.

From FY2021: A combination of total shareholder return and Group consolidated underlying operating profit.

</table>

1. Where the numerical values for indicators are standard values, ratios represent the percentage constituting performance-based stock compensation (medium- to long-term bonus).
2. Six companies comprising WPP plc, Omnicom Group Inc., Publicis Groupe S.A., Interpublic Group of Companies Inc, Accenture plc, and Hakuhodo DY Holdings Inc., were selected as peer competitors of Dentsu Group.

Reason: Total shareholder return is employed as an appropriate indicator in line with the perspective of shareholders and all other stakeholders. To evaluate business performance, it was deemed appropriate to adopt the Group consolidated underlying operating profit that measures constant business performance.

Strategic shareholding

In order to enhance medium- to long-term corporate value by maintaining and strengthening business relationships with its business partners, the Company, apart from pure investment, sometimes holds shares in listed companies that are the Company’s business partners.

Of such strategic shareholdings, Dentsu Group Inc., in principle, reviews and considers reducing individual stocks through sale, depending on whether the profit and related profits, such as the dividend, are higher than the target capital costs of the Company’s stocks, or whether the stock ownership contributes to the maintenance and enhancement of the business relationship with the investee company and the promotion of collaboration.

Accordingly, each year the Board shall examine the purpose and economic rationale for owning all strategic shareholdings, from a medium- to long-term perspective, and disclose the results in our Corporate Governance Report or other documents.
Risk management

Risk management structure
To the right is a list of major risks associated with the execution of Group strategies, business and other activities that may affect the decisions of investors. Under the corporate governance structure presented in the diagram on page 44, Dentsu Group is engaged in a variety of measures to minimize risks as future uncertainties with the potential to hinder the achievement of management goals as well as to take advantage of these risks as opportunities.

Risk management process
In 2020, the Internal Control and Risk Committee met three times to identify and assess risks that are important for Group management based on the Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) approach. In order to prevent the materialization of identified risks and minimize the impact if they materialize, the Committee selected risk sponsors, delegated the formulation and implementation of risk response plans to them, and regularly monitored the response status.

In addition, an Internal Control and Risk Committee was established at Dentsu Japan Network (hereinafter, “DJN”), and a Risk Committee continued at Dentsu International (hereinafter, “DI”), with both engaging in risk management activities. In 2020, the DJN Internal Control and Risk Committee met six times and the DI Risk Committee met four times.

Starting in 2021, the evaluation of and response plans to the risks for the Group will be discussed at the Group Executive Management Meeting. The Group Risk Meeting is newly established as its subordinate organization.

Promoting compliance

Compliance promotion system

Dentsu Group Inc. formulated the “Dentsu Group Code of Conduct” as a guideline for corporate activities. Compliance is an important pillar of the Group’s Code of Conduct, according to which it formulates rules, produces manuals, conducts training, and carries out other efforts to ensure Directors, Executive Officers and employees are able to carry out their duties appropriately.

The Compliance Committee of Dentsu Japan Network (DJN) was established to promote business in Japan, while the Compliance Committee of Dentsu International (DI) was established to promote overseas business.

In yet a further step, the Company set up the Group Compliance Meeting to supervise the aforementioned committees and make decisions on compliance matters from a global perspective.

Against this background, we are working to maintain and improve compliance through implementation of the plan-do-check-act cycle.

DJN compliance promotion

Compliance programs

Compliance related to the execution of operations involves a variety of measures, including compliance with important laws and regulations related to the advertising business. Employees receive booklets covering all laws and regulations related to advertising activities, the implementation of information security, human rights, harassment, accounting procedures, and other measures. This is done to make sure of compliance with laws, regulations, and Company rules in all operations, and that reporting and consultation systems are set up should problems arise. Further, employees are given the chance to undertake independent online study.

Monitoring

DJN has put in place a structure for regular reports on the status of compliance at DJN companies. The reports are shared at DJN Compliance Committee meetings.

In terms of internal monitoring, we observe the status of compliance with laws and regulations to appropriately reflect DJN plans for internal monitoring.

Response to trouble

In the event a DJN company officer or employee becomes aware of compliance issues or has any concerns, regulations stipulate that the matter/s must be quickly and accurately reported to a supervisor.

The supervisor immediately reports this to their compliance manager, who contacts the DJN Compliance Committee Secretariat.

Having received a detailed report on the matter from the Secretariat, the DJN Compliance Committee provides guidance regarding investigation of the matter, while not obstructing any DJN company from conducting voluntary inquiries.

Once compliance issues are identified, the relevant DJN company promptly takes corrective action.

“Compliance Line” internal reporting system

DJN set up the Compliance Line reporting system to rapidly identify and resolve compliance violations, as well as to promote compliance by management and sound corporate development.

The Compliance Line operates according to Compliance Line Operational Guidelines and is available for use by all employees.

For details, please see the Corporate Governance Report on our website.

DI compliance promotion

Compliance programs

Dentsu International (DI) provides detailed and summarized versions of compliance regulations, as well as translations in several languages. It thereby makes sure all officers and employees are familiar with the rules and are able to comply with the requirements.

In addition, management strives to enhance employee awareness by regularly disseminating compliance-related messages to employees, and systematically providing training. Employees are encouraged to gain a deeper understanding and awareness of compliance-related matters.

Monitoring

Through measures including ascertaining attendance at training sessions and collecting answers to compliance questions from Executives each year, DI regularly monitors the penetration of compliance programs, in a bid to realize continuous improvement.

Preventing corruption

DI has in place measures to hinder corruption by providing relevant regulations and training programs.

The Company has a system in place that requires prior reporting and approval before a gift exceeding a specified amount may be accepted. By aggregating report content and approval details in a dedicated department, the system serves to monitor and contain issues.

“Speak Up!” internal reporting system

DI set up the “Speak Up!” internal reporting program that can be used by all DI company officers and employees. In addition to an in-house point of contact, employees may report violations to an independent outside specialist.

The system requires that an employee’s workplace and name be held in strict confidence, with the system designed to function effectively through the imposition of internal regulations ensuring no one is treated unfavorably after using this system.

Dentsu Group Code of Conduct (excerpt)

At Dentsu Group we believe we must be a force for good. When we do the right thing as individuals, it becomes who we are as a company. It’s what makes being a force for good possible, and it starts with each and every one of us. That’s why we expect everyone who works for, or on behalf of, Dentsu Group to understand and live by our Code of Conduct.

The Code of Conduct applies to everyone within the Group. It defines the way we act as part of the Group community and the core principles we are all committed to upholding. It sets out what we can expect of each other, and how we are expected to behave toward our stakeholders including clients and other business partners, shareholders, and our communities.

Manuals tap into creativity

Many compliance-related manuals are complicated and difficult to understand. For employees to gain a good grasp of compliance-related activities, the Group has drawn on creative staff to produce engaging manuals.
